

Jamie Linden
Vice President of Finance and Western Region CFO

Jamie provides financial and operational insight, analysis and support for Ascension's business unit leaders and senior management.

Prior to joining Ascension, Jamie was the CFO of Brightspark Travel, one of the largest student travel businesses in the US. Prior to Brightspark, Jamie was the VP of Finance & Controller of EDC, the 2nd largest owner/operator of ATM's in the US. He has also worked as a consultant at Bain & Company, a global strategy consulting firm where he worked with senior management at clients in both the entertainment and financial services industries to identify opportunities to increase revenues and reduce costs. Jamie spent the first five years of his career working in New York with Ernst & Young, a global auditing and tax firm.

Jamie has a Bachelor's degree in Economics & Accounting from the College of the Holy Cross, and a Master's in Business Administration from Harvard Business School. He is also a Certified Public Accountant.